The calves and pigs are to be placed in the Star barn by 11 a. m. on the day of the show or they may be brought in tomorrow. The judging, in front of the courthouse, will take place at 2 p. m.

Cash prizes, subscribed by Maryville merchants, will be as follows:

While the calf and pig clubs are preparing for their show, the girls of the garment making and young housekeepers clubs will be having one in the building on the east side of main street, between Second and Third, formerly occupied by the Price and Null grocery. The judging of exhibits will commence at 10 a. m., and they must be in place before that time.

After the garments have been judged individually, they will be formed into club displays, and these will be judged at 1 o'clock. The judging contest among the girls themselves also will be held at this time. From 2 to 4 o'clock a demonstration contest among the club teams will be held.

Miss Lois Martin, extension specialist in home economics, Columbia, will judge the girls' exhibits. Another visitor will be Miss Sara Chiles of Columbia, assistant state leader in boys and girls club work. She will check the record books kept by the 4-H club members.

The prizes for the girls will consist of $1 for first and 50 cents for second in each of the following classes:

The club members have been urged by J. Ross Fleetwood, county farm agent, who directs their activities, to come prepared to sing songs, give yells, and have a good time, and to bring their fathers, mothers and neighbors.

The general meeting for all club members, from 4 to 5 o'clock, will be held in the same building in which the girls exhibits are to be placed, and the prizes will be awarded then.

CASH PRIZES FOR SHOWING

POULTRY RAISERS WILL VIE FOR SPECIAL AWARDS.

MANY PLAN EXHIBITS

Mrs. John Hamilton Says There Is Much Interest In Show To Be Held This Winter.

Cash premiums will be featured at the poultry show to be held here by the Northwest Missouri Poultry Breeders Association, according to Mrs. John Hamilton of Maryville, president of the association.

"Never have I known such interest," Mrs. Hamilton said. "Everyone is planning to show.

"In visiting among the poultry breeders and talking in the interest of our show, the trend of opinion seems to be that money talks," she continued. "They want cash specials. They say expenses mount up appallingly, and they feel that cash premiums will help with expenses.

"We can do this by getting a large membership in the Northwest Missouri Poultry Breeders Association. The idea of feed specials, remedies and other such premiums belong to the dead ages. We will have cash specials, and that is the one thing that will bring poultry breeders to our show more than anything else. Everyone has his own favorite feed and his own special roup medicines, and such premiums do not mean anything to the poultry folks of today."

The next greatest problem to the securing of premiums, Mrs. Hamilton said, is getting a desirable building, well lighted, and on the ground floor if possible.

"We want room enough," she explained, "so that those who desire to demonstrate poultry feeds or supplies of any kind can have a concession in which to demonstrate their wares. Charging these men a reasonable rate will help us to pay the expenses of the show. The exhibitors should advertise their demonstrations to be held at the show."

Promises have been received of many interesting and somewhat uncommon exhibits, Mrs. Hamilton announced. For instance, Mrs. R. E. Allen, near Maryville, has turkens, a cross between a barred rock hen and a turkey. She is planning to show these, and many others will have displays of geese and ducks of all descriptions.

One of the features of the show will be Childrens' Day on Saturday, December 4.

"If any of you poultry folks have a pet pig, duck, goose or hen," said Mrs. Hamilton, "plan to bring them to our show, something to help out for the children and to make their day interesting."

The show will be placed under competent veterinarian control. If a sick bird is noted, it will be removed immediately from the building.

"We appreciate that the breeder who sends his best to compete with other breeders' best are imposing on show officials a sacred trust," the president of the association explained. "Means will be provided by which coops will be thoroughly disinfected—n ot just a squirt here and there of some much advertised stuff but a thorough job under the direction of someone who knows what biological cleanliness means. Definite steps will be taken to protect our county's best standard bred poultry."

Mrs. George Wright of Bedford, Iowa, was in Maryville today.

Two Cattle Sales Bring Fair Prices

Weather and Road Conditions Unfavorable to Larmer-Davis and Allen and Son Offerings.

The Aberdeen Angus cattle sale of Larmer and Davis at Ravenwood Tuesday and that of John Allen and Son at Conception Junction Wednesday brought fair prices, considering the weather and other conditions. The sales were fairly well attended but a number of cattle men were unable to be present on account of the bad roads.

At the Larmer & Davis sale, the top price was $350, which was paid by Walter Davis. The average of the Larmer cattle was about $120 a head, while the Davis average was about $100. About sixty head were sold.

The average at the Allen & Son sale was $100 and the top price was $215, paid by Robert Larmer. Sixty-three head were sold.

ENFORCEMENT IN U. S. COSTLY

ABOUT 115 MILLION DOLLARS SPENT THIS YEAR.

335 PERSONS KILLED

Millions Have Also Been Spent by Department of Justice—Much Property Has Been Confiscated.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Enforcement of the dry law has cost the United States more than $114,724,000 this year.

In addition to this money outlay, 335 persons have lost their lives in the civil war between federal forces and bootleggers.

Operation of the prohibition unit, including money to be spent up to the close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1927, has amounted to $12,902,514. Coast guard activities for the prevention of rum smuggling have cost $52,151,580.

Millions of dollars have been spent by the justice departments for prosecution of liquor cases but no record of the amount is kept. Much of the money spent in federal courts could be charged to prohibition, it was said.

Dry agents in the seven years have confiscated property valued at nearly 80 million dollars. A large portion of the seizures have been sold and the money put into the treasury. Most of the liquor seized, however, was destroyed.

Had America remained wet, revenue from the beverage tax would have amounted to nearly three billion dollars, officials said, arriving at this figure by comparing tax collections before the United States accepted the Eighteenth Amendment.

Baby Beef Club at Ravenwood Has Show

Myron Crater Wins First, With Roy Eldon Moore Second and Landis Burch Third.

The Ravenwood Baby Beef Club, the first to be organized in the county, is having a show this afternoon at Ravenwood, preparatory to the one to be held in Maryville Saturday.

Myron Crater, with a Hereford calf, won first prize at today's show; Roy Eldon Moore, Angus, second; Landis Burch, Hereford, third; Howard Crater, Angus, fourth; and Raymond Crater, Angus, fifth.

Other members of the club who exhibited their calves were Oral Porter, Thelma Green, Charlie Burch and Leon Brown. The show was declared to be the best Ravenwood has had.

Roy A. Kinnaird of the State Teachers College acted as judge.

The Ravenwood Chamber of Commerce is giving prizes of $7, $6, and $5, for the first three places and $3 for each other calf shown.

The Ravenwood club has twelve members. It was first organized in 1921, the first year for boys' club work in the county, and has been active each year since then.

FORD'S PLAN IS APPROVED

LABOR FEDERATION TO FIGHT FOR SHORTER WEEK.

CLAIMS IDEA AS OWN

Brought Innovation Into Printing And Fur Industries, William Green, President, Declares.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Encouraged by the action of Henry Ford in adopting the five-day week, the American Federation of Labor will fight vigorously for a shorter working week in industry, William Green, president, declared today.

Green does not believe that there will be universal acceptance immediately of the five-day week, but he thinks that in a few years employers will realize that with increased production, through time-saving machinery, wages will be increased and working hours reduced.

The federation, not Ford, should be given credit for first bringing about the shorter week, Green said.

"Ford seems merely to have used the philosophy of the federation in regard to hours, wages and production," Green declared. "Through the federation's activities, the five-day week already has been established in two important trades, printing and fur working."

The president of the federation said that the week now for the day printing trade is forty-four hours, or five and a half days. The night printers work forty hours, or five days a week.

"Two months ago, we made agreements whereby the fur-working trade now has a forty-hour week, or five days, as Ford has now established."

The five-day week will come first in the so-called confining trades, Green said. This will include laborers working at top speed and under satisfactory conditions that the hours should be reduced, he said.

"Drudgery means decreased production which in turn is a dead loss to the employer," he added.

With Ford, Green believes that the increased leisure goes hand in hand with increased production. The five-day week is a sound economic plain, he said.

"The employers should bear in mind that it is good business, as Henry Ford has said."

Green declared that this was the principle under which the federation would fight for the shorter week.

"Socially inequality, industrial instability and injuries must increase unless the workers, real service, and the purchasing power of wages, coupled with a continued rduction in th number of hours making up the working day are increased in proportion."

C. E. Wells to Go to Librarians' Meet

C. E. Wells, librarian at the State Teachers College, will leave this evening for Atlantic City, where he will attend the annual meeting of the American Library Association to be held from Oct. 4 to 9. Mr. Wells will join the Missouri delegation in St. Louis tomorrow and from that city they will go in a special car.

This meeting of the association marks the 50th anniversary of the association, and one of the main speakers will be Melvil Dewey, the father of the organization. There will be fifty foreign librarians in attendance.

Bakers Transfer Building to Bank

The building at 109 East 4th street belonging to Mrs. S. S. Baker and George B. Baker has been transferred to the Real Estate Bank, acording to a deed filed at the recorder's office. The deed gives the price as "$1 and other valuable consideration." The lower floor of the building is now occupied by the Reavis Shoe store.

Reports of Bridge Damage Still Come

Still the reports of needed repairs to bridges continue to come in according to E. T. Bailey, presiding judge of the county court.

"We just have to fix them as we can get to them," Judge Bailey said. "These continued rains make the work all the more difficult and add to the cost."

A car of bridge lumber to be used in the repairs will be unloaded at Pickering in a few days, he announced.

Deny Reports That King Will Abdicate

Roumanian Legation Declares Reports Are Fantastic and Absurd—King In Poor Health.

London, Sept. 30.—The Roumanian delegation here today flatly denied reports published in the United States that King Ferdinand of Roumania is considering abdication of his throne. The reports were characterized as fantastic and absurd.

The reports were to the effect that the king, whose health has not been the best, was delaying his abdication until the scandal concerning Crown Prince Carrol had died down.

MUSSOLINI IN SECRET MEET

CONFERS WITH FOREIGN SECRETARY CHAMBERLAIN.

OF GREAT INTEREST

Meeting Believed To Have International Bearing—No Statements Of Outcome Are Given.

Leghorn, Italy, Sept. 30.—Premier Mussolini of Italy and Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain of Great Britain today engaged in a secret fifty-five-minute conference aboard the yacht Giuliana off the coast here.

There were no witnesses to the meeting and no statement was made as to what was accomplished.

Mussolini returned to Rome and Sir Austen to his own yacht on which he arrived yesterday.

While the object of the meeting has been carefully guarded and the conference was held at sea, far from interruption, it is regarded as being of utmost international interest. While the Italian press generally declares that Mussolini and Chamberlain have no conflicting questions to discuss, the Popolo D'Italia and other papers predict that the meeting will contribute largely to a peaceful strengthening of the "New Europe."

It is expected that the two statesmen will discuss a wide range of topics, particularly the situation created by the acceptance of Italy into the League of Nations. Problems connected with Abyssinia and Tangiers also are said to be on the program of the meeting.

What the outcome of the meeting is and what agreements will be reached will not be announced in all probability and will become known only when some specific question arises which will indicate the nature and result of today's meeting.

Oklahoma Section Suffers Flood Damage

Okmulgee, Okla., Sept. 30.—Swollen by five days of rain the Deep Fork river near here was out of its banks today, inundating farm lands and threatening to drive hundreds of families from the bottoms.

WAR STAMPS COUNTERFEIT

$336,000 OF 1919 SERIES FOUND BOGUS.

A WIDESPREAD PLOT

Defendant in U. S. Court Admits Passing $7,500 Worth.—Ten Persons Already Convicted.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Of the 90 million dollars worth of war savings stamps of the 1919 series redeemed so far by the government more than $336,000 have been pronounced counterfeit, disclosing a plot of nationwide ramification, it was revealed in the United States court here today.

Myles McCahill, special secret service agent of the bureau of engraving at Washington testifying in the case of Joseph Zotarelli and Biajo Russo, charged with counterfeiting, declared that the latter had admitted to him that he had passed 1,500 of the $5 stamps here.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The federal government has already convicted ten persons in connection with the gigantic war now being waged against war stamp counterfeiters, secret service officials declared today.

The major conspirators were sentenced in Chicago six months ago and about $193,000 worth of counterfeit stamps were seized in Chicago.

Twins Born Thursday Name Gene and Jack

Philadelphia Young Men Put In Appearance Sometime During Tenth Round Of Big Battle.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30.—"Gene" and "Jack" are the names given two husky twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Allen. The twins were born last Thursday night while the world's heavyweight championship battle was being fought between Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey at the Sesqui-Centennial stadium.

"They were tenth round twins," the proud father said today. "They were born just about the time the battle ended. Even if they never see their namesakes, the boys can fight it out between themselves and have a reputation to live up to."

"Gene" weighs eight pounds and Jack tips the scales at six.

Phone Bother Writer, Lists Butler's Name

London, Sept. 30.—The price of fame has been a jangling telephone bell for J. M. Barrie, the playwright. He stood it as long as he could. Then he ordered his name deleted from the telephone directory, and he had peace.

But it was too much peace. Sir James had rid himself of his unwelcome admirers but he soon found that he had cut off his close friends, too. They could not remember his number and they could not look it up.

Then Sir James Barrie struck an ingenious solution. He listed his telephone number in the name of his butler. All his friends know the name of his butler. They can call him. But unknown admirers are successfully baffled. There is just the right amount of peace now in Sir James Barrie's home.

Weather

DANCING AND SCHOOL.

A Roumanian school girl, 12 years old, has brought suit against her school for $2,500, on the ground that by suspending her for one year they have lengthened by that much the part of her life that has to be spent in school, and have thus delayed the opening of her public career. She believes she would be able to earn the $2,500 in one year as a public dancer.

The school, it seems, suspended her for a year because she gave a public exhibition of her dancing ability.

It's a queer kink in school history. If Judith Pal should win her suit, would other parents and guardians in numbers be enabled to sue schools when, for what they deem good and sufficient reasons, they suspend students or expel them? On the other hand, was suspension for a year really the wise thing to do in this case—would it not lead to more of what the school deprecated?

Yet, is there not something to be said for a school which considers childhood sufficiently sacred to need protection from the temptation to earn money in any such public and unchildlike manner?

SELF DENIAL AND STABILITY.

The world will rejoice that plucky little Belgium has passed the crisis in its struggle for financial stability. The Belgian Nation voluntarily put itself on a regimen of rigid internal economy, which its people, from King to peasant, undertook with commendable fortitude. Belgium's fine record of the past, which has encouraged subscriptions to the converted railway monopoly shares, and the people's heroic self-denial have borne their certain fruit.—Christian Science Monitor.

WESTON HAS SUCCEEDED.

Edward Payson Weston, the famous walker, recently defeated in his hike against Poverty, has quietly settled into a job as handy man at a Kingston (N. Y.) hotel.

"Poor old man!" many say, but it is sympathy wasted. If Edward Payson Weston is good enough, at 85, to fill the job of handy man, which often calls for some rather arduous labor, he needs no sympathy.

He needs no sympathy because he has proved what he set out to establish, that walking is the universal health-building exercise. He can work at 85. His doctrine is sound. He has succeeded.

Perhaps a few of us who now ride in motor or street cars every time we have to go two blocks will not succeed so well.—Cape Girardeau S. E. Missourian.

OLD DIVORCE DOGS AIMEE

EVANGELIST THREATENED HUSBAND, RECORDS SHOW.

STATE TIGHTENS NET

Mrs. McPherson Seen In Hotel, Witness Says.—To Submit Grocery Lists From Love Cottage.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 30.—Aimee Semple McPherson, woman evangelist, threatened to shoot her former husband, records of the divorce trial in superior court revealed here today.

Both Harold B. McPherson, the husband, and his mother, Mrs. Annie M. McPherson, testified that the evangelist threatened McPherson's life.

The testimony on record, in the form of affidavits, paints the famous evangelist as cruel and as one who could throw fits like an actress.

Seen at Hotel, Says Witness.

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 30.—Walter Lambert of Los Angeles testified today at the preliminary hearing of Aimee Semple McPherson that he saw the evangelist enter the Clark Hotel at 10 o'clock in the morning of May 18, five and a half hours before her disappearance at Ocean Park, and that he saw Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio operator at Angelus temple, enter the hotel two minutes later.

Lambert said the evangelist carried a brief case with her name printed on the side. He identified Ormiston from a picture of the radio man shown him and he said he saw Ormiston nod to someone in the hotel as he entered the lobby.

Lambert refused to give his home address in court declaring he feared the persecution of fanatics.

Another important development loomed when Deputy District Attorney Forrest Murray announced that Deputy District Attorney Joseph Ryan, who unearthed the Carmel-by-the-Sea episode, in which it is alleged Mrs. McPherson spent ten days with Ormiston at a Carmel cottage, would be called upon to tell his story. Grocery lists found at the Carmel cottage by Ryan will be introduced as evidence. The state will call a handwriting expert in an effort to show that the lists were in the handwriting of Mrs. McPherson.

Newspaper Reporter Called.

Walter Moore, Santa Barbara newspaper reporter, who stopped Ormiston and a woman companion in Ormiston's automobile near Santa Barbara on May 30 following the Carmel episode, was also to be called as a witness today. He will attempt to identify Mrs. McPherson as the woman with Ormiston in the car.

Deputy District Attorney E. J. Dennison at the opening of court today resumed the reading of the testimony given by Mrs. McPherson before the grand jury when the story of her alleged kidnapping was being investigated. Mrs. McPherson, the transcript showed, was questioned about her statement about a hair net which she wore when she reappeared at Agua Prieta, Sonora, Mexico, and which, she said, she had worn when she entered the water for her fateful swim.

Mrs. McPherson told the grand jurors that this hair net had survived not only the waves of the sea but also the hardships of her thirty-four-days kidnapping and the vicissitudes of a twenty-mile hike across the Mexican desert.

Club Postponed.

The Pickering Needlework Club of Pickering which was to have met at the ome of Miss Mary Wolfers was postponed yesterday. The club will meet with Miss Wolfers tomorrow.

Pleasure Planes Used by Rich Englishmen

London, Sept. 30.—Light seaplanes, owner-driven for pleasure, are becoming pouular along the English coast, according to Captain H. Broad, who recently won the King's Cup race for light land machines.

"I think there is no doubt that light seaplane flying will soon become immensely popular," Captain Broad said. "With the sea as your airdome, the difficulties of judging in and taking-off disappear."

Owing to the construction of floats, light small seaplanes will probably cost more than the small land machines.

A number of members of the peerage own their own airplanes and use them regularly for "hops" between London and their country places.

Lawyers Will Dine, Discuss Preferences as to Blonde Ladies

Senator M. E. Ford has received an amusing invitation to attend the buffet smoker to be given by the Kansas City Bar Association at Hotel President at Kansas City Friday evening, complimentary to all member of the state association. Senator Ford will be unable to attend.

The invitation states, in part:

"The occasion will be informal. No addresses analyzing the fundamentals of government, defending the bill of rights, or attacking prohibition will be permitted. The Hon. A. N. Gossett will preside, and possibly he will permit a general discussion of 'Do Lawyers Prefer Blondes.' The toastmaster has announced, however, that he will permit only those who know whereof they speak to take part in this discussion. Those unqualified to consider this topic may meditate upon younger days. All guests will be distinguished. Those desiring community singing will find space on the Union Station Plaza."

It is stated in the invitation that Harvey T. Harrison of the Little Rock, Ark., bar will be the after dinner speaker. He was a speaker at the annual banquet of the American Bar Association in Denver in July.

Musical Numbers Are Given at Meeting

D. A. Caldwell, secertary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, conducted this morning a thirty-minute class in music for the boys of the Claytonian Literary Society of the Maryville High School. Mr. Caldwell gave an explanation of the new type violin-mandolin and the banjo-mandolin. He played several selections on these instruments and gave several vocal solos.

On the violin-mandolin Mr. Caldwell played "The Song of India" and "Mother Machree" which he sang as he played.

"It's Nice To Get Up In The Morning," a vocal selection accompanied by the banjo-mandolin, was a favorite number on the program.

A popularly known college song and "Always" were other features on the program by the secretary.

Miami Residents Who Visited Here Last Summer Write Of Storm And Its Work.

Many interesting side-lights on the terriffic hurricane which swept over Florida September 18, killing and injuring hundreds of persons, wrecking buildings and homes are contained in letters being written by persons who were in the storm.

Following is a letter from Mrs. L. M. Richardson, who, with her daughters, Misses Marion and Harriett and Mr. Cy Berning, a newspaperman, all of Miami, Fla., visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Godsey last summer. They had just completed a tour of the middle-western, western, and New England states and had returned to Miami shortly before the storm broke.

"The wires are so overworked that this letter will reach you first.

"The Hindu Temple (the Richardson home) stood her ground in fine shape in spite of the waves which rolled up eleventh street and parked three boats on our front steps. The Harberta (a 65-foot yacht) made a bold dash for our dining room window, but got caught on the stone retaining wall just in the nick of time.

"All sorts of monstrous things flew about us and at us but we were so occupied boring holes in the floors, battening windows and doors that we could not view the 'Passing Show'. Our garage doors are very likely acting as temporary stretchers up at Jackson Memorial hospital.

"A dredge has flattened out six house boats on our river property as unconcerned as an old hen on that many eggs. Boats took to the high dry places, while the motor cars dashed into the deep, both seeing a chance for a complete change.

"Mulloy's house (a splendid structure not far distant from the Richardson's) is a pitiful sight and the Taylor strong cement house is a pitiful sight, the family barely getting out alive.

"Mr. Berning was out with the police through all of it and did not come home in pieces. When he left the house at 1 a. m., that Saturday I felt as though it was for the last time.

"The boys of the neighborhood were truly kind to us. They came to our house during every lull to see how we were and what they could do. The Boy Scouts are working hard trying to deliver the thousands of telegrams to owners of houses blown away.

Rain Not to End With Month.

The sun was shining this afternoon for the first time in several days. However, the forecast is for occasional rain tomorrow. As this is the last day of September, it was hoped the rainy weather would stop with the month.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Sierth, of Hermosa, S. D., left Conception Junction today for their home. They have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Matilda Regan for several days.

Mrs. J. L. Kraft will leave tonight for her home at Cleveland, Ohio, after a visit here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Irvin and Richard Kuchs and family.

Mrs. R. W. Richards left this morning for Washington, Kansas, for a visit.

College Bearcats Open Season Against Missouri Wesleyan Team at St. Joseph Tomorrow Afternoon

A full squad of State Teachers College Bearcats, loaded for big game and fortified against mud and slippery footing, will embark on the morning train tomorrow for St. Joseph. There these Bearcats will meet the Missouri Wesleyan College eleven in football at League Park at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The locals went through a short drill this afternoon preparatory to the starting of their season tomorrow, and Coaches Lawrence and Jones pronounced them fit as they went to their showers.

Although the Bearcat mentors would give no exact information on who will start the game tomorrow, it is a fair conjecture that the above line-up will be on the field when the whistle blows. The same is true of the Wesleyan line-up furnished the Democrat-Forum and Tribune by Coach Poland.

In the Maryville starters nine letter men from last year will be found. Miller, end of last year, has been transferred to the backfield, and will likely start as fullback. Captain Eads, Willoughby, and Search, members of the backfield of last year, will also be found in the trnees.

The right end berth will probably be filled by Bert Irwin, a freshman from Trenton. This lad has been showing up exceptionally well on the wing position.

According to the figures given above, the Maryville team will have an advantage in weight, averaging about seven pounds more to the man.

Seven of the Wesleyan players of tomorrow's game are letter men. The others are players of ability, and several of them were squad members last year.

It was planned for the Bearcats to journey to St. Joseph in automobiles, but the condition of the roads made it advisable for the trip to be made on the train. A number of rooters will accompany the squad.

Others beside those given in the table above who are likely to see service in the game tomorrow are: Joy, end; Hartman and James, tackles; Hollar and Fouts, guards; Stitt, center; and Davenport, O'Banion, and Wilson, backs.

E. W. Cochrane will referee the game tomorrow. The names of the other officials are not known.

Nodaway County Has Several at Market

Nodaway county was well represented on yesterday's livestock market at St. Joseph, the following, among others, being listed with shipments: Orr Kinman, Sam Conlin, Ernest Boyer, the Nodaway Valley Cattle Co., G. H. Null, C. E. Farnan and J. D. Hannah.

Mr. Farnan, who sold a load of good Angus mixed yearlings, was quoted in the Stockyards Daily Journal as saying, "There has been lots of rain in the last few weeks, but everything is all O. K. in Nodaway county."

W. A. Blagg went to St. Joseph today.

Week Unfavorable to Maturing Crops

Throughout Missouri, most of the week just closed, except the first two days, was mostly cloudy, wet and cool, and generally unfavorable for fall farm work and maturing crops in most of the state north of the Ozarks, according to the weekly weather and crop bulletin issued by George Reeder, meteorologist at Columbia.

"The outstanding feature of the week," the reports says, "was the first real cool snap of the season. On the morning of the 26th, frost temperatures were prevalent but cloudiness prevented general frost. In most of the northern counties, however, temperatures approximated the moderate freezing value, the lowest reported being 28 degrees, in Putnam County. The resulting damage was slight and confined to gardens and legumes.

"The continued wet weather has been mostly unfavorable for maturing corn though the high temperatures of the preceding weeks were helpful. In the southern sections the crop is safe from frost while in northern counties not more than 20 per cent is subject to damage by a killing frost. Considerable has been cut and shocked making way for wheat, and silage has been completed.

"Much ground is about ready for wheat but wet soil has prevented seeding on any considerable scale. In some fields of the southeast the first sowing is coming up to good stand. This work will be rushed to completion the coming week if weather permits.

"The southeast cotton crop is opening fast and picking made progress the first of the week but was stopped by rain. Pastures are very good and late forage is plentiful, provided frost stays off a week longer. The apple crop is excellent."

The VANITY CASE

by Carolyn Wells

NEA FICTION

© 1926 by G. P. PUTNAM SONS

CHAPTER XXIV.

"Nothing of the sort!" said Bunny, who had suddenly, and, it seemed, miraculously, recovered not only her sang froid, but her usual attitude of airy impertinance. I was crying because of a bad dream I had. I though—oh, it was a terrible dream—I don't want to remember it! Now, Mrs. Prentiss and Mr. Buck, you are kind and good-hearted, but I can't—I just simply can't be more frank and confidential with you, because—well, because I just can't! But I do feel grateful for your well meant offers of help, and I can see how you think I ought to tell you more—but, you see, you are already prejudiced against me, and what I would tell you, would doubtless make you more suspicious of me, and surer that I am more or less implicated in the death of my friend."

If Bunny had made this speech with an humble or appealing air, it might have had a good effect, but, on the contrary, she was smiling of face and gay of demeanor.

Her hearers couldn't know that the poor child was frightened almost to death, that she longed for help and advice, and that she hated to seem heartless and ungrateful, but Bunny had a preverse nature in some ways. Kindness always won her heart; sympathy always impelled her confidence; but these people showed a little too much cold curiosity, a little too much suspicious interest, to please Miss Bunny. And, discerning these things, she turned from a sweet confiding child, to a wise, canny and even tricky young woman.

It wasn't quite fair of Bunny, but then, she felt that they hadn't been quite fair to her. Asking questions of the servants behind her back!

In response to the shocked protestation at her last speech, She said, in a conciliatory way:

"Well, never mind. I do want some advice, but I'm not quite ready to tell you all about myself. I think I'll run over to the other house a few moments, and see for myself what Emma had to say, and also have a few words with Carter."

"May I go with you?" asked Toddy, and though about to say no, his smile was so truly friendly and sincere, Bunny changed her mind and said graciously, "I'd be glad to have you, Mr. Buck."

Over to the Heath house they went, and found Larry Inman in the studio, surrounded by a deskful of letters and papers belonging to Perry Heath.

"Have you found anything of importance?" Bunny asked.

"No, not as bearing on the mystery of Myra's death or Perry's absence," Inman replied.

"Do you think Perry will ever come back?" Bunny asked.

"I did think so, at first, he returned, slowly. "Now—I don't know."

"Bunny has heard from him," said Toddhunter Buck.

"What!" cried Inman, turning to look at the girl.

"I have not!" she declared, angrily, but the flood of color that broke over her face gave her words the lie.

"You have!" Inman said, "I always can tell when you're lying, Bunny. What did he say? Did he write you?"

"No! I haven't heard from him at all. Mr. Buck is mistaken—or he is joking. A very ill-timed jest!"

"I think he telephoned to her," Toddy spoke to nobody in particular, merely looking into space, as he leaned his chin on the knob of his stick.

"Did he, Bunny?" demanded Inman.

"No," she said.

"Then where does the joke come in?"

"Oh, I had a telephone message from someone else, and Mr. Buck thinks it funny to assume it was from Perry. I wish I knew where he is!"

"Yes, so do I," Inmann agreed. "I say, Bun, here comes that pest, Mott! Do you want to scoot out the back way?"

"Bunny looked frightened at first, then seeing in Toddy's eyes that new light of friendly kindness, she concluded to stay with him.

Though not of deep intuition's, Mott sensed that the mental atmosphere was not in sympathy with him.

"You are the one I want to question first, Miss Moore," he said.

"Yes?" she said.

"I am told, Miss Moore, that you went upstairs at half past one, or thereabouts the night of Mrs. Heath's death. Is that true?"

"Why, no, I don't think so," Bunny looked like a puzzled child. "I should say I went up to bed some time earlier than that. Didn't I, Larry?"

Inman gave her an imploring glance, which she rightly understood to mean advice to be more ingratiating in her manner.

But he loyally played up to her lead, and said:

"As I remember it, Miss Moore said goodnight and went to her room at something like half past eleven."

Mott said, gravely: "I gather, from facts told me that Miss Moore did go upstairs at the time you mention, but that she went down again later, and then reascended the stairs at about half past one o'clock. She carried up with her, her gold vanity case. It has been proved that the contents of this case were used on the countenance of Mrs. Heath, after that lady had ceased to live."

"Excuse me, Mr. Mott," Toddy broke in, "may I ask how you proved that?"

"By the evidence that the vanity case in question is the only one known to have been in the house that night which would give the results, the colors or tints, found on the face of the dead woman. This has been most carefully tested by expert chemists and we believe our deductions to be true ones. Did you put the make-up on Mrs. Heath's face, Miss Moore?"

"Most certainly not," said Bunny, but so tremulous were her lips, and so nearly inaudible, her voice that Mott smiled grimly, as if in disbelief.

"But you were down in the studio at one thirty?" he went on, inexorably.

Mott sighed patiently.

"Then we must go on," he said. "Now, we have to consider also the flight of Perry Heath. It is acknowledged that a disappearance is often equivalent to a confession. Therefore, I am ready to assume that since Mr. Heath has disappeared, it may well be that he is responsible for the death of his wife. I do not attribute too much importance to the card left behind, with the legend, 'The Work of Perry Heath.' That, it seems to me may be the work of the murdered himself and equally well may not. I can scarcely conceive of Mr. Heath leaving the card if he were really the murderer. And, yet, it is not easy to imagine another doing it."

"Might it not be the work of some of the servants?" asked Buck, earnestly.

"It doesn't seem like that to me," Too often servants are neglected or ignored as witnesses. On the contrary, it seems to me that servants, granted their truthfulness, are most valuable witnesses. They know the family secrets often, they overhear the family jars, or small squabbles. I wish, by the way, Mr. Inman, you would call Mott said, "yet, of course it may be. in the man, Herrick. He may prove helpful."

Larry was not at all anxious to accede to this suggestion, but he saw no way out of it, and he pushed the bell that summoned the butler.

Sleek, smug and subservient, Herrick appeared.

A picnic long to be remembered, was enjoyed by St. Joseph's Parish last Sunday. Owing to the inclement weather it was held in the Church basement instead of the woods as had been planned. At noon a bounteous basket dinner was very much enjoyed by all. In the afternoon various contests were given, and there was homemade candy, pop, ice-cream, toy ballons, horns and all that make a real picnic. A number of former residents were also present to enjoy the occasion, they were, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Klaas, Mrs. J. F. Pfiefer, Mrs. Fred Waske, Mrs. Louisa Klaas and daughter, Rosetta, Donald and Junior Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fitzsimmons and son of Conception.

After the program, it was decided in the business session to put on a contest to secure funds, equal in length to one fourth mile of pennies. Captains were selected and chose their helpers, all ladies of the church will be asked to help obtain the goal. The meeting was also the occasion of a linen shower as a farewell for Mrs. L. F. Focht, who has been a faithful worker in the various departments of the church, and will soon leave with Rev. L. F. Focht and children for their new work in northwestern Iowa. The many gifts bespoke the high esteem in which she was held in the community. About fifty ladies were present.

A Word With the Old Folks

Elderly People Are Learning Importance of Good Elimination.

IN the later years of life there is apt to be a slowing up of the bodily functions. Good elimination, however, is just as essential to the old as to the young. Many old folks have learned the value of Doan's Pills when a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys is required. Scanty or burning passages of kidney secretions are often signs of improper kidney function. In most every community are scores of users and endorsers who acclaim the merit of Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—The failure of the September wheat future, which was closed out today, to develop anything like the late bulge expected by bulls gave grains a disappointingly low close on the Chicago Board of Trade today.

Wheat was strong during most of the session. Cash prices were ½ to 1½ higher. The close was unchanged to 1½ lower.

Corn was also weak. There was considerable selling by longs early in the session; while the government's hog cholera warning and large over-night shipments of old corn from the country were also depressing faefors. Cash prices closed ½ higher than yesterday while futures were ⅜ to 1¼ cents lower than the previous close.

Oats was again a dull affair. The cash article was unchanged while futures ranged from ½ lower to ⅛ higher.

Provisions closed considerably higher than yesterday.

THROUGH ADVICE OF NEIGHBOR

Woman Tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"A neighbor advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which she said had helped her so much. So I bought a few bottles and tried it out. It sure helped me wonderfully. I felt much better. My work was no longer a dread to me. If I hear of any one who is troubled the way I was, I will gladly recommend the Vegetable Compound to them and I will answer any letters in regard to the same."—MRS. BERTHA MEACHAN, 910 Center St., Lansing, Mich.

"I had been sickly ever since I was fifteen years old. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I got so I could do all my housework and I am in good health."—MRS. MARIE K. WILLIAMS, Ketchikan, Alaska.

From Michigan to Alaska, from Maine to Oregon and from Connecticut to California letters are continually being written by grateful women recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Compound is made from roots and herbs and for more than fifty years has been helping to restore run-down, over-worked women to health.

HOPES RISE THEN FALL

SPOOFHOUND STAR INJURED IN PRACTICE YESTERDAY

TEAM MAY SURPRISE

Notwithstanding Charles Kissinger's Hurts Good Game Against Chillicothe Tomorrow Is Expected

Hopes for a cracking good football team which were held by members of the Spoofhound squad early this week after the return of Charles "Red" Kissinger from Washington, took a slight slump last night when Kissinger's right shoulder was dislocated during practice. However, Coach C. W. Croy expects that the twenty-seven high school boys, eleven of whom will be pitted against Chillicothe on the State Teachers College grid at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, will offer something of a pleasant surprise to Maryville's football fans.

It was during passing practice that Kissinger slipped and fell to the ground, injuring his shoulder. He probably will be able to play in games later this season when his shoulder is in condition to allow such exercise.

Kissinger, a star of the Spoofhound squad last year, had moved to Washington with his parents but only last week returned to Maryville and enrolled at the high school here. He has been counted to fill the fullback position on the Maryville team and his absence from the line-up tomorrow will force the Spoofhounds to go on the field with an inexperienced backfield.

George Hall, a former tackle, has been shifted to the backfield and likely will start as one of the halfbacks in the game against Chillicothe. Harry Wilson, whose kicking ability is of a promising grade, may be the other halfback although John Dooley, Ray Keever, Edward Clary, Junior Stanfield, Harold Daniels, and Kenneth Swinford, who also have been trying out for center, may be selected to start in the halfback position tomorrow.

Stewart Bush, Fay Howard, Leland Alsup, Junior Curnutt, John Hall, Ben Thompson, Victor Mumma, Jack Gray and George McMurry, are all candidates for the team. Veterans who likely will be in the line-up tomorrow include Frank Nichols, Gene Howard, Curtis New, Jack Sorrie, and Walter Dow and Richard Holt.

R. E. Rush, of Lafayette High School, at St. Joseph will referee the Maryville-Chillicothe game tomorrow afternoon. Miller, of Missouri Wesleyan at Cameron, will umpire and W. N. Deatherage will act as head-linesman.

Sam Ransdall, is expected to bring a strong squad from Chillicothe tomorrow and it is likely that the opening game of the season will be one between two well-matched teams. Sixteen Chillicothe players and their coach are due to arrive in Maryville tonight. They held no practice today but worked out on their own field Wednesday. Chillicothe will play Kirksville on the former's grid next week.

Conception College Defeats Palmer Team

Although Slowed Up By Muddy Field, Collegians Open Season With 25 To 0 Victory.

The Conception College eleven opened the season at Conception yesterday by trouncing the Palmer College team of Albany by a score of 25 to 0. It was also the opening game for the Albany team, which won from Conception last year by a large score.

The field was mud-covered and this slowed up the work of both teams.
